

POLICEMAN LOST HIS LIFE AT FIRE

Patrick Cushing, of Brooklyn,
Cut Off While Trying to Rouse
Sleeping Sailors at Bush
Terminal Company's Stores.

GREAT PIER DESTROYED AND LIGHTER BURNED.

Steamship Also Badly Damaged
—Blaze Believed to Have Been Held in Jute After a Fire
Several Days Ago.

One life was lost, that of a heroic young policeman, and $350,000 worth of property destroyed in a fire that swept the piers of the Bush Terminal Company's stores, in South Brooklyn, today. For a time hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of shipping was threatened with destruction, but skillful handling saved all but the lighter in which the blaze started and the steamship Citta di Palermo, of the Italian line, which was badly burned before being towed out of the fire zone.

The only life lost was that of Policeman Patrick Cushing, of the Fourth avenue station, a young man who had been on the force only six months. While alarming the crews of the threatened vessels he was cut off by the flames at the end of the pier and perished before aid could reach him.

For a time it was believed that Cushing's pal, Policeman William F. Wheaton, had lost his life in attempting to rescue his friend. Wheaton plunged into the fire to get to Cushing, but was driven back, and escaped with a badly burned hand.

While working on the deck of the burning Italian steamer, Fireman John B. Walsh, of Engine Company No. 14, tumbled into the hold and received severe lacerations of the scalp and contusions of the body. He was taken to the hospital. It is feared he received internal injuries.

Because of numerous fires on the piers of the Bush Terminal Company, one of which was undoubtedly of incendiary origin, it was at first believed to-day's blaze was the work of a fire-bug. Investigation, however, showed that it started in a cargo of jute in the lighter Victor, owned by the lighterage firm of McCreery & Company, of this city. This jute was taken from a building that was on fire last week and it is believed that in loading the lighter some smoldering embers were carried aboard.

Fire spread quickly. There were on the pier at that time Detectives Cushing and Newton, Private Watchmen Fred Kettleson and Charles Basal, Policeman Cushing and Customs Inspector John Schalk.

Policeman Cushing hurried to an alarm-box, and then went back to assist those in danger. A sudden flanking whirl of fire cut off his retreat, and he was seen no more. Customs Inspector Schalk also risked his life to alarm the crews of the steamships American and Arizona, of the American and Hawaiian Steamship Company, moored also at the burning wharf.

He not only got the alarm to these vessels in time, but saved a mass of valuable customs papers stored at the end of the pier. Only his agility and watchfulness of the course of the fire saved his life.

Cargoes on Pier Burned.
The Arizona and American had hardly slipped their hawsers and slid along into the stream when the great shed, extending 1,400 feet back from the bulkhead, fronted by a mass of fire, the pier was piled high with valuable cargoes that the vessels were loading, and these were destroyed.

ALL HELLOS STOP FOR FIRE DRILL

Here's the Reason You Couldn't
"Raise Central" Between 8.10 and 8.15 To-Day and Why
Profanity Had No Effect.

Profanity was indulged in by thousands who attempted to use the telephones in Manhattan and the Bronx at 8.10 A. M. to-day. There was absolutely no response from any of the twenty-five exchanges in answer to the usual signal. When five minutes later the customary "Hello" was heard the explanation came: "No, the wire is all right; we were just having our fire drill."

On the last Friday of every month, at ten minutes after 8, three gongs ring in each of the many exchanges. The girls promptly quit work. Everything stops and each operator stands beside her chair. At another signal on the gong she steps into line, and at a third "ring" of the bell the line marches out of the room and the building. The male employees in the exchange during this drill grab fire-extinguishers and pose like real firemen.

COCKRAN SEES DOCTOR ABOUT HIS THROAT.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 25.—Bourke Cockran, of New York, who passed through Kansas City for St. Louis today, consulted a physician here regarding his throat, which has been causing him some trouble of late. The physician is said to have advised an operation, which, however, Mr. Cockran decided to postpone until after election. Mr. Cockran is en route to Indiana to make several speeches.

NAMES OF 20,000 NEGROES SWELL REGISTRATION LISTS

Swarms of Colored Men Appear in Each District of Manhattan, and They Represent
One-Third of the Total Increase in This Year's Registration.

"There are more than 20,000 new negro voters in the borough of Manhattan and most of them are floaters," said Charles F. Murphy today. "Our organization proposes to invoke the aid of all legal machinery to secure an honest vote at the coming election. Every voter, whether black or white, that is believed to be a colonizer will be proceeded against."

"It is difficult for an organization to pick out these illegal voters. The negroes flock together and they keep their tongues quiet as long as they are paid and guaranteed security. We will try to wake them up this year."

The abnormal increase in the colored vote was so glaringly disproportionate in several Assembly districts that a council of war was held in Tammany Hall last night and a special warning sent out to each district leader asking for specific details of the negro registration in his district.

The notice was as follows:
Dear Sir: You are requested to send at once to Tammany Hall the number of registered colored voters in each election district of your Assembly district. Prompt compliance with this request will be much appreciated by yours very truly,
CHARLES F. MURPHY.

The reports already received at Tammany Hall indicate that the west side districts are fairly overrun with negroes who have never voted in New York before. Of the thousands of challenges made by the Morgan deputies during the registration not one was directed against a negro.

Imported from Other States.
Tammany Hall leaders have openly charged that the negroes have been imported from Pennsylvania and the Carolinas for this election for the purpose of cutting down the normal Democratic majority in this city.

The feeling among the Democratic voters in the middle west-side districts over the immense negro registration is intense. Observation shows that very few of the new negroes registered have any work to do. They hang around the saloons or lounge in the lodging-houses, strengthening the impression that they were imported for colonization purposes.

Race Riots May Follow.
Race riots in some of the more reckless neighborhoods are regarded as a certainty on election day, and extra details of police will be placed at the polling booths. Nearly every one of the new negroes will be challenged, and attempts to wear in votes in neighborhoods like Hell's Kitchen will most assuredly result in trouble.

Mr. Murphy has already taken action by appointing a committee to deal with the situation. This committee is working with the district leaders, arranging a plan by which every negro about whom there is any suspicion will be forced to show he has a legal right to vote.

That the tremendous negro increase is shown by the answers given by thousands of them to the questions put by the inspectors. All said that they had lived in their present addresses for a year or more, and all said that they did not vote at the last election. Many admitted that the last time they voted was in the South.

Where Negroes Have Flocked.
The district leaders who report the greatest increase in the negro registration are Bernard F. Mason, in the Fifth; William Dutton, in the Eleventh; Peter J. Dooling, in the Thirteenth; George W. Plunkett, in the Fifteenth; Daniel F. McMahon, in the Seventeenth; James J. Hogan, in the Nineteenth; Thomas F. McAvoy, in the Twentieth; and George F. Scannell, in the Twenty-third.

Senator Bernard F. Martin, of the Fifth Assembly District, states in his report to Leader Murphy that he will have nearly 30,000 colored voters this year. In the Eleventh District, where he sits, is a house in Cornelia street. In the Eleventh Election District, last year there were no colored voters registered from there, while there are fifty-two enrolled upon the registry books from the house this year.

Which Patrick H. Keenan, of the Tammany leader, has an increase of almost 100 per cent. in the colored registration. Mr. Keenan is positive that over 90 per cent of this increase is fraudulent, and has a score of lawyers at his elbow to back up his claim. He claimed to have voted in the district.

FATALLY BURNED BY THIRD RAIL

Long, Working on "L," Pushes
Hammer Against Electric
Conductor and Receives Terrible Shock—Clothing on Fire.

James Long, of No. 317 East Seventh street, was shocked and probably fatally burned, and James Nolan, of No. 51 East Ninety-eighth street, badly injured, while at work on the elevated railroad structure on Fifty-third street near Eighth avenue this afternoon. Both are now in the Roosevelt Hospital.

The two men were working with a gang of ten on a temporary scaffolding swung under the structure. Long was a riveter, and, in reaching for his hammer, which he had left lying on the end of one of the steel beams above his head, pushed the tool against the third rail.

Long was standing on a coil of copper wire, and as the hammer came in contact with the rail there was a blinding flash and a report.

Clothing Set on Fire.
According to his fellow-workmen Long's body was like a pillar of fire, about which the blue flames ran. Ignited by his oily clothing, Nolan was also touched by the wire, received a severe shock, but retained his presence of mind and jumped from the platform to the street.

Long's comrades were panic-stricken by their companion's plight, but one managed to push his hand from the rail with a stick, whereupon he pitched head forward to the street, his clothing ablaze.

Nolan, who in spite of severe injuries sustained in his fall, stood under the unfortunate accident and tried to catch him, was hurled to the ground and sustained a fracture of the shoulder.

The line-accident Coroner Guay Scholer was driving down Eighth avenue on his way to his home on Fortieth street, when he saw the flames and saw the two men fall.

Taken to Hospital.
With the assistance of some young women living near the scene, who produced linseed oil and other alleviations, the terribly burned and unconscious man was attended, and then, lifting him into the carriage, the Coroner hurried to Roosevelt Hospital.

Nolan, who had severely strained both ankles in his fall, besides the shock and burns and injuries received while attempting to catch his comrade, was taken to the hospital, no one having thought to call for an ambulance for him.

The accident happened just as a south-bound Columbus avenue car was passing, and was witnessed by a score of passengers, some of the women being almost overcome by the awful sight.

BEAT HIS WIFE, THEN DRANK ACID

After Fracturing Woman's Skull with Stove-Lifter as She Lay Sleeping Beside Their Children,
Petronio Ended Own Life.

After beating his wife into unconsciousness with a stove-lifter as she lay asleep with her children, Salvatore Petronio, of No. 110 East One Hundred and Twenty-third street, waited until she awoke and then attacked her with a razor strop. Then he threw himself on a sofa and took enough carbolic acid to kill himself. Mrs. Petronio is in the Harlem Hospital suffering from a compound fracture of the skull. It is said she will die.

The Petronios lived on the ground floor in three small rooms in the rear. There the wife and mother has slaved hard to keep the children from starving, the father being often out of work.

That Petronio was abusive to his wife and children never was known until to-day. The family all were sleeping, the youngest child, a baby of two months, lying on its mother's breast, and the other children, the oldest of whom is ten, lying about the bed of rage.

All Seemed in Good Spirits.
On the sofa the husband and father was sleeping. There had been no quarrel that can be learned of, and it was said the family were in good spirits because the man had got a position as a porter which would enable him to support the family.

Petronio suddenly arose from the sofa with a loud oath, that awakened and frightened the eldest child. He laid father to the floor, and then he turned to the side of the bed and began beating his wife with the stove lifter.

Mother Flees with Baby.
Several times the lifter came down upon the woman as she struck the child in her arms.

When the woman regained consciousness she attempted to rise. The husband was at her with the razor strop, the catch of which made deep gashes in her face and head. The woman cried aloud and aroused the neighbors, who summoned a doctor.

Policeman Whitman, known as "Ajax," the strong man, of the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street station, sent to the Petronio apartment. There he found the four elder children huddled in a corner of the room and crying.

Don't Poison Baby.
FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs, however, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician's knowledge of what it is composed of. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, it is bears the signature of J. C. Fletch.

EX-GOV. NASH DROPS DEAD.

Former Executive of Ohio Stricken in His Bathroom.
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 25.—Ex-Gov. George C. Nash dropped dead in his bathroom to-day.

The ex-Governor died at the home of his stepdaughter, Mrs. Worthington E. Babcock, on Jefferson avenue. Gov. Nash had been in ill-health for over a year, having been stricken with heart trouble and other complications while Governor of Ohio. After Gov. Herrick assumed the duties of the office ex-Gov. Nash became worse, and at one time the doctors resorted to the most heroic remedies to keep him alive.

TWO BLACK HAND MOVES TO WOMAN

Clumsy Effort to Extort Money from Mrs. Theresa Sheridan, Tugboat Owner, Causes Arrest of a Discharged Captain

Many men have tried to impose upon Mrs. Theresa A. Sheridan, the only woman tugboat and dumping-dock owner in New York, but none has succeeded. Today she appeared in Centre Street Court as complainant against Edward Douvall, of No. 353 East Tenth street, formerly a captain of one of her scows, whom she accuses of attempting to extort money from her by "Black Hand" methods.

Mrs. Sheridan has an office at No. 31 State street, a mansion at No. 34 Palisade avenue, Jersey City, and a residence in New York at No. 212 West Thirtieth street. Her husband, H. H. Sheridan, left her his towing business when he died, and she has developed and managed it in the face of difficulties that would have discouraged many a man.

A "Black Hand" Letter.
A letter written in printed characters reached her last Tuesday morning. It read as follows:

Mrs. Sheridan—Owing to the fact that several of our friends are in jail we want you to pay us $1,000. We will let you and your boats to hell. We know all your movements and where you live. You can take your choice of money or death.

At 11 A. M. on Oct. 25, you must go there at 8 o'clock sharp and drop a package containing the money on the doorstep and go about your business. If you fail to take the result, send your servant and tell her to drop it on the stoop.

BLACK HAND.
Inside of half an hour after receiving the letter Mrs. Sheridan was in the office of Inspector McCluskey. He detailed Detective Sergeants McCafferty and Riley on the case and they advised her to not $1,000 in market bills in a huckster, give it to her servant and have it dropped on the stoop of the house in Avenue C.

The servant girl appeared at 8 o'clock, carrying the package of money. There were several children playing on the stoop and the girl was afraid to drop the package.

Two next day Mrs. Sheridan received another letter telling her to take the money and leave it on a bench in Tompkins Park Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Sheridan took this letter to Inspector McCluskey, who detailed Detective Sergeants Forester, Dunn, Fore and McCarthy to assist McCafferty and Riley. The six detectives secreted themselves around Tompkins Square Park and waited for developments yesterday afternoon.

Waited with Marked Bills.
Mrs. Sheridan with a bundle of marked bills, took her seat at the appointed place at 4 o'clock. She sat there an hour and then walked away, taking the bundle with her. Four of the detectives followed her from the neighborhood while McCafferty and Riley remained to watch in the park.

In a few moments they saw Douvall sauntering toward the bench upon which Mrs. Sheridan had been sitting. McCafferty decided to arrest him and take him to headquarters.

In the police court to-day McCafferty and the men he was remanded for forty-eight hours in order to give time for the gathering of additional evidence. Mrs. Sheridan agreed to hold him for twenty-four hours and fixed bail at $200.

Mrs. and Mrs. Cooley, who keep the boarding-house in which Douvall lives at the East Tenth street address, were in court, protesting loudly against his incarceration. They said they had no knowledge of his whereabouts and that he had been taken into custody. He, too, was held.

To the surprise of his physicians the former Governor gradually rallied and recovered to such an extent that he began to go to his office and attend to business. He remained very weak, however, but continued to attend to his law business, having been at his office yesterday.

ling from fright. On the sofa lay the father, apparently asleep.

Whitman tried to awaken the man and found him dead.

The examination of Mrs. Petronio at the hospital showed a compound fracture of the skull. As it was at first thought the strap had been used in the husband's attack upon her, the coroner went to the house with Constable Burns. They searched the premises and found everything in a smouldering condition. There was not enough food for a part of a meal. Petronio had been out of work for four months.

LONG TERMS FOR SHOCKING CRIME

Judge McMahon Sentences Axel
Eitel to Ten Years and Jacob
Biglier to Fourteen on Testimony of Young Girls.

The Judges of General Sessions are alarmed over the increase of crime, especially offenses in which young children are the victims.

Recently the Gerry Society has been prosecuting dozens of offenders whose brutality to little girls is shocking. The Judges are imposing the heaviest punishment the statute prescribes, and today two creatures were sentenced to terms of ten and fourteen years in Sing Sing prison with hard labor.

The courts are so exercised over the spread of this terrible crime that an effort will be made to increase the punishment by providing a special statute giving hardly any limit to the term of imprisonment that can be imposed.

The two men, who were sentenced today by Judge McMahon in General Sessions are Axel Eitel, forty-five years old, who was employed as a watchman on the St. John's Guild floating hospital moored at the foot of West Fifth street, and Jacob Biglier, of East Thirtieth street.

Policeman Rogers, of the West Forty-seventh street station, arrested Eitel and worked unceasingly in building up a case against him. Judge McMahon complimented Rogers in the highest terms for his work, saying:

"If there were more policemen like you these unspeakable outrages would be swiftly punished and these wretches would receive condign punishment for their crimes. It is awful to think that such offenses can be on the increase in an age which is supposed to shed a refining influence upon society."

The Court thereupon sentenced Eitel to ten years' imprisonment. A few minutes later he sentenced Biglier to fourteen years' imprisonment for a similar series of crimes. Many of the child witnesses who appeared against these men were wearily in their teens.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and need attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root will set your whole system right, and the best proof of this is a trial.

DEAR SIR: I was in the Army. I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the last year it became so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed—my strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-Root and wrote asking for advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time.

I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this, I had a doctor examine me of my water to-day, and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition.

I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers, I am, very truly yours,
I. C. RICHARDSON.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything, but it promptly cures kidney trouble.

SPECIAL NOTE.—In order to prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root are so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N.
